GanoSuper™ is 100% American grown Ganoderma lucidum, commonly known by its Japanese name Reishi. This is probably the most well known and most widely studied medicinal mushrooms in the world. It has been revered for centuries throughout the Orient as the Mushroom of Longevity. There are a number of different strains of Reishi, usually known by the color of their fruitbodies. The most potent Reishi's are Red, Black, White and Purple Reishi. GanoSuper™ is the first product formulated with equal proportions of all these different types of Reishi – providing the MOST POTENT Reishi product available anywhere in the world today! GanoSuper™ is a soluble concentrate hot water extracted Full Spectrum Mycoproduct giving you all the benefits of the finest Reishi's from all corners of the world. When you need the most potent Reishi available for your formulations, GanoSuper™ is the best choice you can make!

Reishi has anti-inflammatory properties which allow it to positively affect the respiratory system. It is great for battling allergies or bronchitis, and it can reduce the blood pressure issues related to hypertension. Reishi's high concentration of unique polysaccharides are linked to aiding the body's ability to fight cancer, act as hypoglycemic agents, and strengthening the immune system. Reishi also contains potent antioxidants which scavenge free radicals, retard the aging process and promote general health on a systemic and cellular level. It is also known to protect the liver and help instill calmness. Reishi has anti-bacterial and anti-viral properties as well.
